The Face at the Window, Superb Big

The contaminating influence of reck-less associates is shown most convinc-nely in this superb Biograph drama seacted for the feature at the Breed beater for the balance of this week, and carries a story as bewilderingly wried as it is natural. A young col-less preducts, his father's pride, has just been elected a member of the Graduate club, and is presented the customary stein. This is placed upon tomary stein. This is placed upon cinb shelf, and all goes well until the club shelf, and all goes well until the new members calls upon an artist friend, and finding him painting a new canvas, using a professional model, he is fascinated by her. He makes many calls upon her, and finally marries her, but is disowned by his irate father. He goes from bad to worse, and leaves his faithful little wife and child at the mercy of the world. The child grows up and is in later years elected to the up and is in later years elected to the on toast sees a face at the window, and the boys, thinking it is a tramp, call him in just for fun. It turns out to be the boy's father, and he begs the privilege of drinking once more from the club stein, and while doing so expires. The remainder of the bill is as sar perfection as can be imaginted, and contains another of those dramatic riumples for which the Breed is fam-

Rev. J. J. Papilion for eight and one-half years pastor at St. Joseph's Cath-olic church. Dayville, has been trans-ferred by Rt. Rev. John J. Nilan to the pastorate of the Immaculate Con-ception church, Baltic, left vacant by the death Jan. 25, 1810, of Rev. James W. Hoey.

The parish contains besides an attractive church and rectory a parochial school. In this parish is located too, the flourishing academy of the Holy Family, a young ladies seminary of wide reputation for excellence and thoroughness of instruction.

Rev. Father Papillon is a native of Canada and was ordained at Nicolet in 1881. After two years' ministry in Canada he came to Connecticut and for three years was an assistant pastor in Waterbury, then for three years assistant in Putnam, before being appelinted pastor of St. Thomas church work for two years and eight months. From Voluntown he was promoted to Dayville, where he has labored fatthfully and efficiently, leaving the parish in most satisfactory condition. His successor there has not been announced yet. The parish contains besides an at-

Paid Dod License, Plus Warden's Fee.

Dog Warden A, J. Tinker was informed on Tuesday that a vicious dog had bitten a child on Hill street. On investigation he found the dog to be unlicensed and would have put him out of the way but for the pleas of the family and the fact that the owner said he would pay the license. When he tound that there was a little more to pay for the dog warden's trouble, he refused to pay anything, whereupon Mr. Tinker went up to shoot the dog. The man finally paid and recived a reprimand from Warden Lewis for his delay.

BAD HOUSING.

New York Expert Fnds Faulty Con-ditions in New Haven Tenement Section.

For two days last week Lawrence Veiller of New York was the guest of the tenement housing section of the New Haven Civic Federation. Mr., Veiller is secretary of the National Improvement Housing association and came to New Haven on the invitation of this society to look over the housing situation and give his advice of remedy to serious evils in the tenement houses of the Elm City. Mr. Veiller has been for the past twenty years associated with the advanced move-ment for improved housing in the ment for implication of the states. The tenement housing section of the federation has been for six months studying the conditions in New Haven and brought Mr. Veiller to the city to submit to him their plans of improved housing conditions here.

On Thursday Mr. Veiller met the tenement housing sections the city of the control of the contro on Thursday Mr. Veiller met the tenement housing section at the Civic Federation rooms and discussed the situation with them. He was then taken by the committee on a five hour tour about the city beginning with Fair and Wooster streets, including all sections of the city where poor housing is abundant.

In a great many of the tenements the garbage is dumped in the ashes or allowed to accumulate in the corner of the courts with other waste, in other cases from the appearance of the garbage cans it showed that the collections were few and far between.

Mr. Veiller reserved his judgment on the conditions he had seen and facts he had heard until Friday, when he met at luncheon at the Country club the members of the association, and leading citizens, in a conference on the housing conditions and related subjects. He first described the poor condition of the garbage, also the fact of dark rooms in the large brick tenement houses. He described the manner in which lots are built all over and in this way exclude light and air from the buildings. He said this is all uncalled for in a city like New Haven, where there is plenty of room to build houses of any description without these defects.

From 1,000 to 1,500 privy saults he found to exist in spite of the sewer connection of the city.

GROUCHY ALLEY VS. SUNNY STREET.

Do you want to knew the secret of the happiness of life?
Taste the nector that is flowing in this world of toil and strife?
Would you learn to smile at trouble and to keep your temper sweet?
Then move out of Grouchy alley and reside on Sunny street.

You can laugh at every trial, and your ille will fly away:
You can revel in your gladness every hour of the day.
And your heart will echo snatches of the songs your lips repeat.
If you'll move from Grouchy alley our on happy Sunny street.

Why be lingering in shadows, when the sunshine; ever fair.
Bids you come out where the blossoms and the bird songs greet the air?
You can walk in paths of pleasure with expectant, cager feet, if you'll banish Grouchy alley for the joys of Sunny street.

Oh, you'll fearn the peace of loving as you never did before.

And you'll strike a mine of treasure from life's overflowing store;

And success will ever guide you, and you'll never know defeat,

If you'll just leave Grouchy alley for delightful Sunny street.

So look up and face your trials with a confidence supreme!

Happiness will be your portion—not a vague and misty dream;

You'll experience the fullness of the happy life complete.

Just by leaving Grouchy alley for the joys of Sunny street.

THE WORLD IS MINE.

For me the jamine buds unfold
And silver datates star the len.
The crocus hoards the sunset gold.
And the wild-rose, breathes for me.
I feel the sap through the bough returning.
I share the skylark's transport fine,
I know the fountain's wayward years.
Ins:

I love, and the world is minel love, and thoughts that some time grieved.

Still well remembered, grieve not meg
From all that darkened and deceived
Upscars my spirit free.
For soft the hours repeat one story.
Sings the sea one strain divine,
My clouds arise all flushed with glory;
I love, and the world is mine.
